BOARDING SCHOOLS.

ALASKAN FIELD.

SHELDON JACKSON SCHOOL, SITKA, ALASKA (Co-educational).

1901-1911 average enrollment, 146.

1880 Mission Day School opened in Government Guard House. A few boys begged to live at school, providing their own food and bedding.

1882 School building erected under direction of Doctor Sheldon Jackson.

1884 Home for Girls, with Mrs. McFarland, Principal, moved from Fort Wrangell to Sitka and a second house built. The united schools formed the beginning of the Sitka Industrial and Training School.

The Sitka cottages, occupied under certain restrictions by married Christian natives, provide model homes on Mission ground.

In the course of years the school buildings became unsuitable and inadequate. After the death of Doctor Sheldon Jackson in 1909, funds already in hand were increased from many sources and the Sitka Training School, henceforth the Sheldon Jackson School, has now a beautiful home consisting of six large buildings thoroughly equipped and carefully adapted to industrial and academic work.

MARSHALL.

1894 Work opened in an abandoned warehouse. Extended until a church, manse, well-equipped academy and teachers' home made Marshall a center of Christian influence. Little Pine, Big Pine, Walnut Spring, and Walnut Run Missions are outcomes of the Marshall work.

1908 The increased public school facilities and the strength of the church warranted the Board in withdrawing higher school work from Marshall. The Woman's Board still supports a kindergarten teacher, whose efforts also second those of the pastor in community work. The library, club house, classes in cooking and handicraft, with helpful social intercourse, touch every phase of the community life.

MISS ELIZABETH PENROSE.....Head Worker.

Grad. Normal School, Dixon, Ill.; Grad. Kindergarten Training School, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Teacher, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, 3 years, and Blowing Rock, N. C., 1 year; Mission Teacher, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, 9 months; Mission Teacher, Tahlequah, Okla., 1902-05; Present position since 1907.

"The Laurel Field."

P. O., WHITE ROCK, NORTH CAROLINA.

Named "Laurel" from the branching creek on which most of the stations are, and from the masses of rhododendrons on its banks and on the mountain sides. The stations on the present list are Allanstand, Big Laurel, Gahagan, Shelton Laurel, Upper Shelton Laurel, Revere, Rice Cove, Spill Corn, and White Rock. The opening of each was in response to the awakened desire of the little community. The length of the school period may vary from year to year according t the needs of the people or the provision for the public school. Some times one teacher has the care of two schools. Sometimes for year or two a missionary only has charge of the station. For thes reasons no "average enrollment" is given.

MISS FRANCES L. GOODRICH.....Superintendent

Attended Private Schools, Yale Art School, and studied in New York Studios; Became affiliated with the work as a Volunteer, 1890; Later commissioned at Allanstand, from which point the work in the Laurel Field was established; Present position since 1901.

DOROTHY.

A new mining town in West Virginia between Jarrolds Valley and Lawson, where a new Presbyterian church is being built. Miss Jackson and Miss Newcombe have been working in this community for some time, but the demands have been found to be quite beyond the attention which they could devote to it and it has been found wise to send a worker into this separate community to devote her whole time to its development.

MISS GRACE TWINING.....Missionary.
Attended Northfield Seminary, 1893-96; Grad. Huntsinger Business College, 1897; Attended Hyannis Normal School, 1903; Grad. New England Deaconess Bible Training School, Boston, 1906; Public School Teacher 5 years; Bookkeeper, 1898-1900; Church Missionary, 1906-11; Present position 1911.

MEDICAL WORK.

ALASKA.

HAINES HOSPITAL.

Founded 1907.

At Haines, already mentioned, the urgent need of the ignorant natives induced the minister to plead for some relief for the sick and dying. Since 1907 part of the Mission building has been used for hospital and dispensary work. This has been in charge of a missionary nurse, whose efforts have been encouraged and strengthened by the Board's missionary, and who also has been ably assisted by the Post physician. During the past year there have been 40 patients in the hospital, 27 operations, 1,200 office calls and dispensary treatments, and 747 calls in the homes. The good accomplished already more than repays the efforts made, and now that a missionary physician has been added to the force, the outlook is bright.

REV. ALLEN F. MCLEAN.....Superintendent.

C. W. PRESNALL, M.D.....Physician.
Present position 1911.

MRS. C. W. PRESNALL.....Nurse.

1887 Hospital started in connection with Sitka Training School.

1894 Changes in hospital. B. K. Wilbur, physician.

1894-1901 Miss Esther Gibson was head nurse with four assistants.

1906 Hospital work more definitely confined to the Sitka Training School. Physician at government post available for emergencies. Hospital in charge of trained nurse, who is also a medical graduate. In addition to dispensary work she visits the people in their homes and seeks to train them in healthful ways of living.

MISS ESTHER GIBSON.....Nurse.
Present position since 1893.

NEW MEXICO.

JEWETT MISSION, LIBERTY, NEW MEXICO.

1904 The hospital with school and other work transferred to the Woman's Board from three other missionary associations. Medical work begun under a resident physician.

1911 New accommodations well adapted for resuming the medical work, which of necessity was for a time discontinued.
